Visit with Lenz Moser, Top Austrian Producer

By KATHERINE | JUNE 18TH, 2010

Good morning, I just wanted to share my visit with Lenz Moser with you. He is a top producer of Gruner Veltliner from Austria, his family has been producing Gruner Veltliners for 900 years and that is the only grape they grow and produce world class wines from. He was a very interesting man, quite engaging in fact. I will be sure to visit his vineyards in Austria next year. A fantastic wine, new to the market, is the Singing Gruner Veltliner, it is called Laurenz & Sophie, with an orange stelvin cap and is only $21.99. This wine exudes soft juicy fruit of apples, peaches, and citrus minerality, has a nice florality, and spiciness of white pepper, green tea, celery and arugula. It is made in an international style and is a crowd pleaser. A great price for a wine that truly does sing on your palate! This can be purchased at LDB or Everything Wine Sku #458034. Enjoy.

I love the Laurenz V Singing – definitely one of my go-to Gruners when I'm looking for something delightfully citrus and spicy to sip on! I'm located in the US, but if you ever make it to NYC you should let me know and we can sip on it together 😊
